Tim Aalders
Constitution Party

Remember “If you like your health care plan, you’ll be able to keep your health care plan”? Obama and the Democrats lied to us about that. Remember the constant promises by Republicans to overturn Obamacare once they had control of the House, Senate, and the White House? The Republicans lied to us too. Utah needs an authentic alternative. Tim Aalders is the only conservative Republican running in Utah for the US Senate this November, and he is running under the banner of the Constitution Party. Vote for a Utah resident. Vote for the only conservative Republican. Vote for Tim Aalders.

I’m not someone who’s just going to say, “cut taxes” or “cut spending.” I have the practical knowledge of what to do. I kindly ask for your vote and support. There’s only one candidate working to break barriers and build the future.

Lee Castillo
Democratic Party

Utah is a diverse state without diverse representation. I am uniquely qualified to change that and represent ALL of the constituents in Utah HD-1. My work experience as a Social Worker for the Division of Child and Family Services and a Clinical Social Worker at the Utah State Hospital has allowed me to serve a myriad of clients from diverse economic, social, and ethnic backgrounds. It’s my job to listen, evaluate situations, and develop treatment plans. I have volunteered countless hours over the past 15 years serving homeless youth and other vulnerable Utah populations. I now want to serve you.

Eric Eliason
United Utah Party

As a father of four, I approach this campaign firmly invested in the future of our state and nation. I am running with the moderate United Utah Party because partisanship is choking our country; policy progress has completely stalled. I want to address challenges in a non-partisan and more innovative, collaborative fashion. My policy priorities include reducing health care costs and increasing accessibility, preserving Utah’s public lands, instituting campaign finance reform and term limits, seeking congressional immigration compromise, maintaining Hill Air Force Base, and supporting Utah’s economy through sustainable wage and job growth for the benefit of all citizens.

Adam Davis
Green Party

My one campaign promise is simple. It’s solidarity. Solidarity with the working class people of our nation that have seen decades of steady decline in their ability to just make ends meet. Solidarity with the families who have been devastated by policies such as the “War on Drugs”. Solidarity with immigrant families being torn from one another at our border. Solidarity across lines of race, religion, and political affiliation. It’s time we started standing up for each other, and that’s why I’m running for Congress.

Chris Stewart
Republican Party

As a member of the House Intelligence Committee and former B-1 pilot, one of the questions I’m often asked is, “How dangerous is this time?” The answer in short – very dangerous. Our many adversaries want to destroy the freedom that is the foundation of our country.

But I want you to know that I believe in our future. We have made tremendous progress and I believe our nation can come together and overcome any challenge that we face.

Thank you for the honor it is to serve you as your congressman. Now, once again, I am asking for your vote.

Jeffrey Whipple
Libertarian Party

I believe that the fundamental task of government is to safeguard individual rights to life, liberty, property and the pursuit of happiness. I believe that the leaders of our republic are spending us into oblivion and that we must balance our budget, even if it means making hard choices. I believe that crimes without victims shouldn’t be considered crimes at all, and our justice system needs significant reform.

In short, I believe in liberty, and responsibility. If you believe as I do, I’d be honored to have your vote to represent you in Congress. Learn more at www.whippleforcongress.org.

Shireen Ghorbani
Democratic Party

I want to ensure that every Utahn has the freedom to live the American Dream. I know that many Utahns are getting by, but too few are getting ahead.

In 2016, I lost my mom to pancreatic cancer. I saw up close what healthcare like Medicare means to the freedom and dignity of families.

I want you to have affordable doctor trips and prescription drugs. I want all our families to have strong educations and the opportunity of entrepreneurship. We can repair our aging infrastructure as we build the foundation for the innovative economy of the future.

John Curtis
Republican Party

It’s been an honor to serve as Utah’s newest congressman. In just 8 months, I’ve introduced six bills that are critical to the 3rd district. Two of these have already passed a House vote with sweeping bipartisan support.

Additionally, I’ve secured key committee assignments on The Small business, Natural Resource and Foreign Affairs Committees.

In an effort to make sure each voter feels represented, I’ve held over 70 town halls in all corners of the district.

As I promised I’m working to take Utah values to Washington and to get things done.

- Fight for fair and equitable wages.
- Secure healthcare for all.

United Utah Party

I love my job and don’t want to leave it, so I’m a reluctant candidate, the citizen representative – to be a voice for people just like you and me. I am seeking to represent you in order to restore the most basic elements of our society into our governance again: civility, compromise and dialogue. I am committed to strengthening our public schools by better supporting teachers and standards, to humane immigration policy with workable ideas for security, reforming government through counting all votes and establishing term limits, and for a balanced and accountable budget – making government work for us again.

Gregory C. Duerden
Independent American Party

Voters who want more integrity, more representation, and more principled leadership from their elected officials should vote for Greg Duerden on Nov. 6th on the Independent American Party ticket for Congress in Utah’s Third District. He is a veteran, father, grandfather, and great-grandfather; has watched the Utah political scene for over 40 years as a newspaperman and broadcaster and he remembers! He has constitutional solutions unlike our current congressional delegation, and the dysfunctional R and D war currently going on in Congress. As an Independent American he can bring up solid non-partisan solutions both sides can see and agree upon.

Mia B. Love
Republican Party

I am the daughter of Haitian immigrants seeking the American dream. From a young age, they instilled within me an overwhelming desire to serve.

While in Saratoga Springs, I served as city councilwoman and mayor. I now serve in Congress as Utah’s voice in the House of Representatives. While there, I have fought for the sanctity of life, localized education, and tax reform. In addition, I secured the release of political hostages, Joshua and Thamy Holt, from Venezuela.

I have and always will advocate for the needs of our state, leaving power in the hands of the people.

Ben McAdams
Democratic Party

Ben McAdams is mayor of Salt Lake County. He is known for reaching across the aisle to find solutions to issues that matter to Utah families. McAdams is frustrated with a Congress beholden to special interests, where members are too busy fighting to get anything done. He will work to get special interest money out of politics and never vote to raise his own pay. He believes Washington needs new ideas and new blood and he’ll work with both parties to protect Medicare and Social Security, cut waste, hold down healthcare costs and get the country’s fiscal house in order.

What exactly are ballot questions?
Utah law allows for people to vote on issues, including constitutional amendments and initiatives. Initiatives that qualify for the ballot become numbered propositions.

Constitutional amendments propose changes to the Utah Constitution. Any change to the constitution requires approval by voters of Utah.

A nonbinding opinion question is a question submitted to the voters by the legislature.

Ballot initiatives are changes to the law, which are initiated by citizens as a petition.

How do questions end up on the ballot?
Constitutional amendments begin as bills in the Utah State Legislature. If two-thirds of all members elected to both the House and Senate vote in favor of the bill, it is placed on the ballot for Utah voters to decide. If more than half of Utah voters vote in favor of an amendment, the Utah Constitution is amended.

The legislature passed a resolution to place a nonbinding opinion question on the ballot.

Ballot initiatives involve several steps, some of which are:
1. Sponsors file an application with the Lieutenant Governor then hold public hearings throughout the state.
2. The sponsors gather petition signatures of registered voters in Utah. They must gather at least 113,143 valid signatures from voters across the state. They must gather certain percentages of signatures in each State Senate district.
3. County clerks verify the petition signatures and the Lieutenant Governor’s Office certifies an initiative petition if it meets the signature threshold. The Lieutenant Governor’s Office numbers it as a proposition.

Who wrote the information about the questions?
The Governor’s Office of Management and Budget prepares a fiscal impact estimate prior to signature gathering. Legislative Research and General Counsel writes an impartial analysis about the proposed law, which also includes fiscal analysis.

Initiative sponsors and legislators have an opportunity to write arguments in favor and against ballot questions. They may also write rebuttals to these arguments.

What’s on my ballot?
Constitutional Amendment A (page 32)
Shall the Utah Constitution be amended to modify the period of time that a person in the military needs to serve out of state under an order to federal active duty in order to qualify for a property tax exemption for the military person’s residence, allowing the military person to qualify if the period of service is at least 200 days in a continuous 365-day period?
Constitutional Amendment C (page 39)
Shall the Utah Constitution be amended to:
- authorize the Legislature to convene into a limited session if two-thirds of the Utah Senate and House members agree that convening is necessary because of a fiscal crisis, war, natural disaster, or emergency in the affairs of the state;
- require the Governor to reduce state expenditures or convene the Legislature into session if state expenses will exceed revenue for a fiscal year; and
- require a session of the Legislature, other than the 45-day annual general session, to be held at the state capitol, unless it is not feasible due to a specified condition?

Nonbinding Opinion Question #1 (page 44)
To provide additional funding for public education and local roads, should the state increase the state motor and special fuel tax rates by an equivalent of 10 cents per gallon?

Proposition Number 2 (page 45)
Shall a law be enacted to:
- establish a state-controlled process that allows persons with certain illnesses to acquire and use medical cannabis and, in certain limited circumstances, to grow up to six cannabis plants for personal medical use;
- authorize the establishment of facilities that grow, process, test, or sell medical cannabis and require those facilities to be licensed by the state; and
- establish state controls on those licensed facilities, including:
  - electronic systems that track cannabis inventory and purchases; and

  - the payment rate for healthcare providers under Medicaid and CHIP; and

Proposition Number 4 (page 74)
Shall a law be enacted to:
- create a seven-member commission to recommend redistricting plans to the Legislature that divide the state into Congressional, legislative, and state school board districts;
- provide for appointments to that commission: one by the Governor, three by legislative majority party leaders, and three by legislative minority party leaders;
- provide qualifications for commission members, including limitations on their political activity;
- require the Legislature to enact or reject a commission-recommended plan; and
- establish requirements for redistricting plans and authorize lawsuits to block implementation of a redistricting plan enacted by the Legislature that fails to conform to those requirements?

Tips for Reading Ballot Questions

- If a word is underlined, that means the proposed change is adding the word to Utah State Code or the Constitution.
- If a word has a line through it or is within [brackets], that means the word is currently in Utah State Code or the Constitution and the proposed change is deleting it.
- If a word is neither underlined or lined through, that means the word will remain unchanged in Utah State Code or the Constitution.
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

IMPARTIAL ANALYSIS

Constitutional Amendment A modifies a provision of the Utah Constitution that currently authorizes the creation of a property tax exemption for the residence of a person serving out of state in the military under an order to federal active duty.

Current Provisions of the Utah Constitution

Under the current Utah Constitution, all tangible property in the state is subject to being taxed, except for property that the Constitution specifically allows to be exempt from taxation. One of the exemptions allowed under the Utah Constitution is for the residence of a person who serves out of state in the military under an order to federal active duty, if the residence is owned by the person or the person’s spouse, or both. The property tax exemption is available only if the military person’s period of out of state service under the order is at least 200 days in a calendar year or 200 consecutive days. A military person would fail to qualify for the property tax exemption if, for example, the person served 199 days at the end of one calendar year and then had a break in service before serving another 199 days at the beginning of the following calendar year.

Effect of Amendment A

Constitutional Amendment A changes the period of time that a military person must serve out of state under an order to federal active duty in order to qualify for the property tax exemption for the military person’s residence. Under the Amendment, a military person may qualify for the property tax exemption if the period of service is at least 200 days in a continuous 365-day period. The 200 days of service do not need to fall within the same calendar year but must fall within a continuous 365-day period, even if the 365-day period spans two calendar years. Additionally, the 200 days of service do not need to be consecutive but can include one or more breaks in service. Using the same example given above, if a military person serves 199 days at the end of one calendar year and another 199 days at the beginning of the following calendar year with a break in service between the two 199-day periods, the military person would qualify for the exemption under Amendment A. The person would have served at least 200 days in a continuous 365-day period, even though the 200 days were not all in the same calendar year or consecutive.

Implementing Legislation

If Amendment A is approved by voters, a bill passed during the 2017 General Session of the Legislature will also take effect and become law. That bill is H.B. 258, Veterans Tax Amendments. H.B. 258 implements the changes to the Utah Constitution made by Amendment A and allows a military person to qualify for a property tax exemption for the person’s residence if the person has served out of state under an order to federal active duty for 200 days in any continuous 365-day period, even if those 200 days are not consecutive.

Effective Date

If approved by voters, Constitutional Amendment A takes effect January 1, 2019.
Constitutional Amendment A

Fiscal Impact

Any fiscal impact from Amendment A and its implementing legislation will result from property tax exemptions claimed by military persons who qualify for a property tax exemption only because of the changes made by Amendment A. Some military persons may qualify for a property tax exemption even without the changes made by Amendment A, and the impact of those exemptions is not considered for purposes of the fiscal impact of Amendment A. A military person with a residence valued at $250,000 with a 1.35% property tax rate will save $1,856 for each year the person qualifies for a property tax exemption under Amendment A. A local government taxing entity may experience a temporary decrease in property tax revenue because of a property tax exemption claimed by a military person residing within that local government taxing entity. To offset any decrease in a local government taxing entity’s revenue, other property taxpayers within the local government taxing entity may experience a temporary property tax increase. The combined total amount of a revenue decrease for any single local government taxing entity and the resulting property tax increase for taxpayers within that entity will depend on the number of military persons claiming the exemption, the value of their property, and the property tax rates of those local government taxing entities.

Argument in Favor

Voting for Amendment A will increase the fairness of an existing property tax exemption for active duty military members.

The Utah Constitution already allows a property tax exemption for an active duty service member’s home if the member is deployed on active duty service outside the state for 200 consecutive calendar days or for 200 days in a calendar year. However, some members of the military serve on active duty on non-consecutive days that do not align to a calendar year.

Amendment A will increase fairness to all active duty members by amending the constitution to allow a military member to receive a one-year property tax exemption for the member’s home each time the member serves on active duty outside the state for at least 200 days within any 365-day period.

- Representative Val L. Peterson and Senator Curtis S. Bramble

Bill Title & Session
2018 Legislative General Session
Senate Joint Resolution (S.J.R.) 2
Proposal to Amend Utah Constitution
- Property Tax Exemptions

IMPARTIAL ANALYSIS

Constitutional Amendment B modifies the Utah Constitution to allow for a property tax exemption for real property that the state or a local government entity leases from a private owner.

Current Provisions of the Utah Constitution

Under the current Utah Constitution, all tangible property in the state is subject to being taxed, except for property the Constitution specifically allows to be exempt from taxation. Tangible property subject to taxation includes real property, such as land or buildings, and tangible personal property, such as machinery, office furniture, or equipment. Property tax exemptions under the Utah Constitution include an exemption for property owned by the state or by local governments, including counties, cities, towns, and school districts.

State and local governments do not necessarily own all the property they use. Sometimes they lease property from a private owner. Because that leased property is owned by a private owner, it is subject to property tax. The private owner may pass the cost of the property tax on to the state or local government that leases the property. In those cases, the state or local government ends up paying property tax on property that would not be taxed if the state or local government owned the property.

Effect of Amendment B

Constitutional Amendment B authorizes the creation of a property tax exemption for real property that the state or a local government entity leases from a private owner. The term “local government entity” is to be defined by statute. The Amendment does not allow for the exemption of tangible personal property that the state or a local government entity leases from a private owner.

Amendment B may result in a cost saving to the state or local government entities that lease real property from a private owner. Because of the exemption, the private owner of the real property would not be required to pay property tax on that real property, allowing the saving to be passed on to the state or local government entity.

Implementing Legislation

If Amendment B is approved by voters, a bill passed during the 2018 General Session of the Legislature will also take effect and become law. That bill is S.B. 76, Commercial Property Tax Exemptions. S.B. 76 provides a process for obtaining a property tax exemption for real property owned by a private owner but leased to the state or a local government entity. S.B. 76 defines “local government entity” as a county, city, town, school district, charter school, or other political subdivision of the state. That definition includes the same local government entities currently entitled to a property tax exemption for real property that they own.

Effective Date

If approved by voters, Constitutional Amendment B takes effect January 1, 2019.

Fiscal Impact

The legislative fiscal analyst estimates that the amount of property tax paid on real property that state government leases statewide from private owners is currently $1.8 million each year. That amount is paid to local government taxing entities, which are the entities that impose property tax. The amount of annual property tax paid on real property that local government entities lease from private owners is unknown. As a local government taxing entity’s property tax revenue decreases because of exemptions claimed under Amendment B and its implementing legislation, other property taxpayers within the local government taxing entity may experience a property tax increase to generate enough property tax revenue to offset the decrease. The amount of any decrease in a local government taxing entity’s property tax revenue and the amount of any corresponding property tax increase to other taxpayers will depend on the amount and value of the leased real property and the property tax rate on that property.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR

Constitutional Amendment B: A more simple, efficient and transparent tax policy

It does not make sense to use taxes to pay taxes. This is why the Utah Constitution exempts government entities from paying property taxes on property it owns. Amendment B simply provides real property leased by the state or a local government entity to also be exempt from property taxes.

- Simplicity: Currently, property is tax assessed on leased property, even when that property is leased by a governmental entity. In these instances, the state is essentially paying itself a property tax. This is like paying yourself to wash your own car. Whether the state owns or leases the real property it doesn’t make sense to use taxpayer dollars to pay more taxes. Amendment B simplifies this process and makes the tax policy consistent whether the state owns or leases property.

- Efficiency: When the state allocates taxpayers dollars to a state agency or a government entity to provide services, it should avoid waste and inefficiencies. If these entities are forced to use a portion of their allocated tax dollars to pay property tax, they spend less on the services they are supposed to provide. By eliminating the property tax on property leased by these entities, more tax dollars will go toward their intended purposes and less tax dollars will go to waste.

- Transparency: Property taxes paid by a governmental entity on leased property is redistributed to other taxing entities that did not vote to impose the tax. For example, for a school district that leases property could lose part of their education funds to other governmental entities. Amendment B will increase transparency and accountability by ensuring that property tax stays with the entity that imposes it.

- Fiscal Impact: This change will not INCREASE or DECREASE revenues at all. The fiscal impact of Amendment B is revenue neutral.

Whether the state owns or leases property it does not make sense to use tax dollars to pay property taxes. Join us in voting FOR Amendment B for a more simple, efficient and transparent tax policy.

Senator Dan Hemmert
Representative Adam Robertson

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENT IN FAVOR

Property owners who lease land to state or local government entities already receive the benefit of a reliable tenant leasing the land at fair market value. Amendment B seeks to provide an additional benefit to these property owners by giving them a tax exemption, to boot.

The proponents of this amendment argue that it is “revenue neutral.” While technically accurate, that characterization is misleading. Passing this constitutional amendment would result in a tax cut for every property owner who leases land to the state. This will result in a tax increase for every other taxpayer in the state.

The choice is simple: If you lease land to the state, Amendment B will save you money. If you are like the rest of us who do not, Amendment B will raise your taxes.

Voters wisely rejected this idea a few years ago. It’s time to do so again.

Vote Against Amendment B.
- Senator Gene Davis and Representative Sandra Hollins

ARGUMENT AGAINST

Amendment B rewards a few at the expense of all others.

Amendment B is a government giveaway to certain property owners who voluntarily lease their property to the government. This is a tax exemption that every other property owner would be expected to pay.

Each year, local governments are guaranteed the same amount of revenue they received in the previous year and adjust the property tax rate to ensure this. When we grant exemptions, the share is spread among the remaining taxpayers.

The taxes the exempted property owner would have paid are then shifted to every other taxpayer to offset the difference. In short, this measure only helps a small handful of property owners while making everyone else pay the exempted owner’s share.

Property tax is a vitally important source of local government funding. School districts, cities, and counties rely on property tax to provide essential services like educating our children, constructing and maintaining streets, making sure our air and water are clean, and protecting our communities.

Why provide a special handout to those who already benefit from leasing property to the government?

The property owner who leases to the government is already receiving the benefit of a good and reliable tenant paying market value using public dollars. Passing this measure would provide that property owner with the additional benefit of a tax exemption.

Two years ago, the citizens of this state were asked to vote on a constitutional amendment nearly identical to this one. The people wisely rejected that change on Election Day. We ask that you make the same decision here.

The state constitution has worked well for 122 years without this property tax exemption. The constitution is intentionally hard to change. We should only tinker with it when it is absolutely necessary—when the reasons to do so are compelling and the need is vital. There is no compelling reason to make this change now.

Vote Against Constitutional Amendment B.
- Senator Gene Davis and Representative Sandra Hollins

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENT AGAINST

Amendment B is not a giveaway to property owners who lease property to the government. The real property tax exemption that Amendment B provides ONLY applies when the government is leasing 100% of a tax parcel and paying the real property tax directly (i.e., the government writes the check directly to the county). Amendment B has zero effect on the property owner. With or without Amendment B, the property owner who leases the property to the government does not pay the property tax. The property tax exemption is not given to the property owner, it is given to the government tenant who is paying the property tax directly. The exemption terminates when the government’s lease terminates. The only beneficiary from Amendment B is the government (and indirectly all taxpayers) because it no longer has to waste our tax dollars to pay taxes. Using taxes to pay taxes makes no sense, which is why this exemption already exists in our state constitution when the government owns property outright.

The local governments and school districts who rely on property tax as a revenue source will not see a change in funding as a result of Amendment B.

We the people should demand the elimination of government waste and inefficiencies. Amendment B ensures that our government is less wasteful and inefficient by stopping the use of taxes to pay taxes. Vote for amendment B!

2018 Legislative General Session House Joint Resolution (H.J.R.) 18
Proposal to Amend Utah Constitution -- Special Sessions of the Legislature

IMPARTIAL ANALYSIS

Constitutional Amendment C makes three main changes to the Utah Constitution. The Amendment: (1) allows the president of the Utah Senate and the speaker of the Utah House of Representatives to convene the Legislature into session under certain limited circumstances; (2) requires the Governor to take certain action if the state’s expenditures will exceed revenue for a fiscal year; and (3) requires a session of the Legislature convened by the Governor or the Legislature to be held at the state capitol in Salt Lake City unless it is not feasible due to certain circumstances.

1. Legislative Sessions

   Current Provisions of the Utah Constitution

   The current Utah Constitution provides two ways for the Legislature to meet together -- or convene -- in a session to conduct the legislative business of considering and passing laws. First, the Utah Constitution requires the Legislature to meet each year in a 45-day general session. The Constitution does not place any limits on the business that the Legislature may consider during an annual general session.

   Second, the Constitution authorizes the Governor to convene the Legislature into session, commonly referred to as a special session, at a time other than an annual general session for no more than 30 days. The business that the Legislature may consider during a session convened by the Governor is limited to the business specified by the Governor.

   Other than the annual general session and a session convened by the Governor, the Utah Constitution does not provide for the convening of the Legislature into session.

   Effect of Amendment C

   Amendment C authorizes the Legislature to be convened into session at a time other than the 45-day annual general session or when the Governor convenes the Legislature into session. The Amendment authorizes the president of the Utah Senate and the speaker of the Utah House of Representatives to convene the Legislature into session if two-thirds of all Senate and House members are in favor of convening because in their opinion a persistent fiscal crisis, war, natural disaster, or emergency in the affairs of the state requires convening. The business that the Legislature may conduct during the session is limited to the business specified in a proclamation that the Senate president and House of Representatives speaker issue to convene the session.

   Amendment C contains the following additional limitations on a session convened by the president and speaker:

   - the session may not be convened within the 30 days following the completion of a 45-day annual general session;
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT C

- the session may not last more than 10 calendar days; and
- the total amount of money that the Legislature authorizes to be spent may not exceed 1% of the total amount authorized to be spent for the immediately preceding fiscal year.

2. Requirements if State Expenditures Exceed State Revenue

Current Provisions of the Utah Constitution

Under the current Utah Constitution, the Legislature authorizes the spending of state money for each fiscal year, which is a period beginning July 1 and ending the following June 30. The spending authorizations occur before the start of a fiscal year and are based on projections of future state revenue for that same period. The Legislature may not authorize more money to be spent during a fiscal year than the state is expected to receive during that period.

If actual revenue during any fiscal year turns out to be less than the amount of money the Legislature previously authorized to be spent, the Governor may, in the manner and in the amounts chosen by the Governor, reduce the amount that state agencies spend. Alternatively, the Governor may, but is not required to, convene the Legislature into session to adjust the amount of money to be spent to match the amount of state revenue.

Effect of Amendment C

Amendment C requires the Governor to take one of two actions if the state’s expenses will exceed the state’s revenue for a fiscal year. The Governor must either (1) reduce proportionately the amount of money spent, except for money spent for the state’s debt, or (2) convene the Legislature into session so that the Legislature may address the revenue shortfall.

3. Location of Legislative Sessions

Current Provisions of the Utah Constitution

The current Utah Constitution requires each 45-day annual general session of the Legislature to be held at the state capitol in Salt Lake City and does not provide any exception to that requirement. The Constitution does not currently specify the location for a session convened by the Governor.

Effect of Amendment C

Amendment C requires a session of the Legislature that is convened by the Governor or a session convened by the Senate president and House speaker, as authorized under Amendment C, to be held at the state capitol in Salt Lake City. The Amendment makes an exception to that requirement if convening at the state capitol is not feasible due to epidemic, natural or human-caused disaster, enemy attack, or other public catastrophe.

Effective Date

If approved by voters, Constitutional Amendment C takes effect January 1, 2019.

Fiscal Impact

If the Legislature follows past practice and convenes into session on days when the Legislature is holding meetings anyway, Amendment C will not have a material impact on state costs. The legislative fiscal analyst estimates that the Legislature convening into session on a day other than a day when the Legislature is holding meetings anyway will increase state costs by $50,000 for each day the Legislature is convened in session.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR

Vox populi. The “voice of the People.” That phrase refers to the Legislature, the People’s elected representatives. Yet currently in Utah, that voice is effectively silenced more than ten months of the year. Even if facing a critical need affecting Utah residents, the Legislature is without power to speak for the People to address and resolve that need without gubernatorial permission.

Constitutional Amendment C enables the voice of the People to speak for them any time there is a critical need – not just during the 45 days of the annual general session. Those instances will be rare, but the residents of Utah should not be deprived of their voice when there is an immediate need for action.

Constitutional Amendment C specifies the very limited circumstances under which the Legislature can be called into session outside the annual 45-day general session. First, two-thirds of all members of both the Senate and House of Representatives must agree that convening the Legislature is necessary because of a persistent fiscal crisis, war, natural disaster, or emergency in the affairs of state. Second, the session cannot be convened within 30 days of the annual 45-day general session and can last no more than 10 calendar days. Finally, only 1% of the state’s annual budget could be affected during the session.

In addition to allowing the voice of the People to speak on a critical issue facing the state, Constitutional Amendment C also provides a safeguard against the state spending more than it takes in. The Amendment enables the Governor to reduce state expenditures to avoid overspending or to call the Legislature into session to deal with the shortfall.

The residents of 35 other states have the ability for their voices to be heard through their elected representatives in a session convened by their legislatures. Utah’s residents also deserve to have their voice heard through their elected representatives in the Legislature in a moment of critical need. Constitutional Amendment C ensures that the People’s voice will have the opportunity to be heard if and when that moment arises.

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENT IN FAVOR

In my 38 years serving in the legislature, I can think of only one time that the governor and legislative leaders disagreed about the need to call a special session. All other times we have been able to work out a compromise to either resolve the issue without legislative action or to enter a special session under a clearly stated agenda. I cannot imagine a natural disaster that is serious enough that the legislature would want to call itself into special session and the governor would not want to act as well. Historically, when we have had a mid-year budget shortfall, the governor has usually had the necessary tools to handle the issue immediately to create a stop-gap until the next legislative session.

If we have the power to call ourselves into special session, I am concerned about how expanded the agenda for the special sessions may be without more clearly defined limitations than what are set forth in this proposed amendment. Expanded days for meetings for the legislature limits who can take their time from work and families to serve as legislators. This is an unnecessary expansion of legislative powers that is not in the best interest of the State especially within the context of separation of powers set forth in our Constitution.

Senator Lyle Hillyard

ARGUMENT AGAINST

In my experience, special sessions can be nightmares. The notice is usually short and the session is only one day. These problems prevent the general public and those with concerns about unintended consequences of proposed legislative action from being able to express their concerns and help improve the legislation. This public input is what makes the legislative process work.

Currently, a special session can only be called by the governor, who must set the agenda. The legislature is free to approve, amend or reject the presented issue. This process has worked well over the last 100+ years as established in our state Constitution. The mischief can occur when others try to add additional items to the agenda that may at first appear simple, but public debate and input may reveal unintended consequences that we need to consider.

This proposed change would allow the legislature to bypass the governor by the legislature calling a special session, even over the governor’s objection, and then pass bills with a 2/3 majority leaving him no power to veto.

Finally, I am concerned about the constant pressure to move us from a part-time to a full-time legislature. Adding the power for the legislature to call a special session puts added pressure on legislators to continue meeting. We do enough damage in the regular 45-day session.

Senator Lyle Hillyard

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENT AGAINST

Special legislative sessions can be challenging. But what would be even more challenging is to have a critical need of the state go unmet because the Legislature was powerless to act. Constitutional Amendment C enables the Legislature to be the voice of the People at a time of critical need. It is carefully designed to avoid the potential problems mentioned in the opposing argument.
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT C

The Amendment does not change the Governor’s ability to veto a bill passed by the Legislature. The Governor maintains veto power over legislation passed at a session under this proposal the same as with any other legislation.

Adding further last-minute items to the agenda of a session under Amendment C is not possible. The Senate president and House speaker are required to issue a joint proclamation clearly defining the critical issues to be considered at the session. The Amendment forbids the Legislature from considering any other item of business.

Finally, the Amendment carefully safeguards the model of a part-time Legislature that has served Utah so well for over 100 years. The Amendment recognizes only a very narrow set of circumstances that would justify the Legislature calling itself into session. The restrictions on when, why, and for how long the Legislature may convene under this proposal are entirely supportive of the idea of a part-time Legislature.

The Amendment ensures that the Legislature has the ability to be the voice of the People at a time of critical need.

Please join me in voting FOR Constitutional Amendment C.

Shall a law be enacted to:
- establish a state-controlled process that allows persons with certain illnesses to acquire and use medical cannabis and, in certain limited circumstances, to grow up to six cannabis plants for personal medical use;
- authorize the establishment of facilities that grow, process, test, or sell medical cannabis and require those facilities to be licensed by the state; and
- establish state controls on those licensed facilities, including:
  - electronic systems that track cannabis inventory and purchases; and
  - requirements and limitations on the packaging and advertising of cannabis and on the types of products allowed?

IMPARTIAL ANALYSIS

Proposition Number 2 adds to current Utah law related to medical cannabis, also known as medical marijuana, in two main ways. First, it authorizes the establishment of private facilities that grow, process, test, and sell medical cannabis and requires the state to regulate those facilities. Second, the Proposition establishes a state-controlled process for people with certain conditions to receive approval to acquire, use, and, in certain limited circumstances, grow medical cannabis.

Current Law

Current Utah law requires the state, by January 1, 2019, to ensure that cannabis is grown in the state and can be processed into medicinal form and to establish a state facility to sell the cannabis that has been processed into a medicinal form.

Under current Utah law, cannabis can be grown, processed, or sold only by the state. The state may sell cannabis only to a qualified research institution or a person who is terminally ill with less than six months to live.

Under current federal law, it is illegal to distribute, possess, or use cannabis. The federal law is enforceable throughout the country, regardless of whether a state law authorizes the distribution, possession, or use of cannabis in some manner. To the extent a state law prevents the federal government from executing the federal law, the federal law controls and a court could find that the state law is invalid.

Effect of Proposition 2

Proposition 2 does not eliminate or change Utah’s existing cannabis-related law but adds to it in two main ways. First, the Proposition adds a parallel path for cannabis production and distribution by authorizing the establishment of private facilities that grow, process, test, and sell medical cannabis. Second, the Proposition establishes a parallel process for people to receive approval to use medical cannabis, expanding the group of people eligible to use medical cannabis.

Licensed and regulated facilities

Proposition 2 authorizes the establishment of four types of private cannabis facilities:
- cultivation facilities, which grow cannabis to sell to other cannabis facilities;
- processing facilities, which acquire unprocessed cannabis from cultivation facilities, process it into cannabis products, and sell those products to dispensaries;
- testing facilities, which test samples of all cannabis and cannabis products to be sold by dispensaries; and
- dispensaries, which acquire cannabis and cannabis products from cultivation facilities and processing facilities to sell to people who have been approved to use medical cannabis.

Proposition 2 also requires the state to license and regulate cannabis facilities and establishes requirements for and limitations on the facilities, including requirements and limitations relating to:
- the advertising, packaging, labeling, processing, testing, and transporting of medical cannabis;
- the types of products that may be processed or sold;
- the quantities of medical cannabis that may be sold; and
- the number of facilities that may be licensed to grow or sell medical cannabis.

Proposition 2 requires each licensed cannabis facility to maintain an inventory control system that:
PROPOSITION NUMBER 2

- tracks cannabis in real time, using a unique identifier;
- stores in real time a record of the facility’s cannabis inventory;
- includes a video recording system to track cannabis handling and processing;
- maintains compatibility with the state’s electronic system identifying people approved to use medical cannabis; and
- is accessible to the state during inspections, which can occur at any time.

Medical cannabis use

Proposition 2 establishes a state-controlled process to allow, beginning March 1, 2020, certain people to receive approval to use medical cannabis, expanding the group of people eligible to use medical cannabis. To receive approval to use medical cannabis under Proposition 2, a person must have one of the conditions listed as a “qualifying illness” and receive a physician’s recommendation.

Proposition 2 also establishes a process for a person whose condition is not included on the list of qualifying illnesses to receive approval to use medical cannabis. To receive approval, a person must provide satisfactory evidence to a five-member board of physicians that the person has a condition that is hard to control or deal with and substantially impairs the person’s quality of life, and the board must determine that medical cannabis use is in the person’s best interest.

Under Proposition 2, a person approved to use medical cannabis is:
- prohibited from using medical cannabis in public, except in a medical emergency;
- prohibited from smoking cannabis;
- prohibited from using medical cannabis while operating a motor vehicle;
- required to carry proof, when possessing medical cannabis outside the person’s residence, that the person is approved to use medical cannabis;
- required to carry cannabis, when outside the person’s residence, only in limited quantities and with labeling that indicates its source;
- allowed to grow up to six cannabis plants for personal medical use, if, after January 1, 2021, there is no licensed dispensary selling medical cannabis within 100 miles of the person’s residence; and
- allowed to designate up to two persons to help, without compensation, the person acquire or grow medical cannabis, if a physician determines that the person needs assistance.

Proposition 2 requires the state to maintain an electronic system, operational by March 1, 2020, that, among other things, allows:
- a physician to submit a recommendation for medical cannabis treatment;
- a person to apply from a physician’s office for approval to use medical cannabis;
- the state to track and archive, for no more than 60 days, cannabis purchases; and
- law enforcement to determine during a traffic stop whether a person is approved to use medical cannabis.

Fiscal Impact

Proposition 2 exempts medical cannabis sales from state and local sales tax and requires the state to impose fees, including licensing and registration fees paid by cannabis facilities, to cover the ongoing costs of implementing the Proposition. In the first year, Proposition 2 may cost the state $3.6 million, an amount that includes one-time setup costs. Some of the first year’s initial setup costs will have to be paid before the state begins collecting fees, requiring the state to pay $1.3 million from state tax revenue. After the first year, the annual revenue from fees is expected to cover the Proposition’s estimated annual cost of $2.1 million.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR

The Utah Medical Cannabis Act would allow sick and suffering Utahns to legally access cannabis if their doctors feel it can help them.

Passing this law would make Utah the 30th state to approve medical cannabis as a treatment for sick and ailing patients with a limited set of approved conditions. Polls in Utah have repeatedly shown over 75% of voters support this proposal.

Despite such strong support, the Legislature has not been willing to pass an effective law that stops treating patients as criminals. As a result, the Utah Patients Coalition collected nearly 200,000 signatures to give you the opportunity to decide this important issue.

The Utah Medical Cannabis Act is a cautiously crafted bill, written with Utah values in mind. It includes responsible regulations to ensure only patients can obtain legal access. It also gives law enforcement significant oversight and applies numerous restrictions to minimize abuse. Recreational use of cannabis would remain strictly prohibited and will continue to be prosecuted according to the law.

Patients with the following ailments would be allowed access under a doctor’s supervision:

- Epilepsy
- Cancer
- Chronic pain
- Crohn’s disease
- Autism
- PTSD
- Multiple Sclerosis
- HIV/AIDS
- Alzheimer’s disease
- ALS (Lou Gehrig’s Disease)

Individuals suffering from these conditions should not be criminalized, especially when others like them are able to find symptom relief in states that provide safe, legal use of cannabis-based treatments. Creating medical refugees of sick Utahns—and forcing them to abandon their support network in our great state merely to find relief elsewhere—is inhumane. There is a better way.

If you agree, we invite you to support medical patients by voting in favor of the Utah Medical Cannabis Act. Patients shouldn’t be treated as criminals.

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENT IN FAVOR

Over the past five years, Utah lawmakers have passed several bills to help people who can benefit from medical marijuana. These initial steps are well thought-out, chart a responsible path to relieving suffering, and protect Utah communities from unintended consequences. Unfortunately, Proposition 2 ignores these policy changes and implements a de facto recreational marijuana policy in Utah.

Proposition 2 violates the safeguards of legitimate medicine. Instead of physicians only, the initiative allows a long list of individuals to recommend marijuana use. Instead of pharmacies, it provides for dispensaries (the initiative’s term for pot shops) to sell a variety of products such as gummies and brownies. Instead of prescribed dosages managed by licensed pharmacists, the initiative allows any person to receive the equivalent of 100 joints every two weeks. This is recreational marijuana, not medical marijuana.

The co-author of California’s medical marijuana law, very similar to Proposition 2, says, “We created [it] so that patients would not have to deal with black-market profiteers. But today it is all about the money. Most of the dispensaries operating in California are little more than dope dealers with storefronts.” Utah can do better.

The National Academies of Sciences Engineering and Medicine concluded marijuana use during adolescence negatively impacts education performance, employment and social relationships. States legalizing medical marijuana have seen an increase in youth usage, suicide and addiction rates. The harm to our youth is predictable and measurable.

We encourage all Utahns to vote AGAINST Proposition 2.

ARGUMENT AGAINST

This Initiative Goes Too Far

This initiative promotes widespread recreational use while presenting itself as only helping patients. It needlessly exposes our children and youth to a dangerous and highly addictive drug. It violates sound medical practice. It will increase traffic fatalities and criminal activity. It overrides the ability of cities and towns to make their own zoning decisions. We strongly urge you to vote “AGAINST” this initiative.

Youth Marijuana Use Will Increase

A recent national survey shows that states that legalized marijuana have the highest rate of youth marijuana use in the nation. Utah currently ranks last. Adolescent use lowers IQ, reduces motivation, causes psychosis, and is associated with increased suicide attempts and abuse of other drugs. Utah has over 650,000 school children that will be put at significant risk. This is one reason Utah PTA opposes this initiative.

Marijuana Will Be Sold by Untrained “Budtenders”

Real medicine requires a prescription filled at a pharmacy. In sharp contrast, the initiative allows virtually anyone to obtain a healthcare provider’s “recommendation.” People with no legitimate medical training (“budtenders”) will then sell marijuana products with names such as Green Crack, AK-47, Gorilla Glue and Girl Scout Cookies. People will be able to buy the equivalent of 100 joints every two weeks. This is one reason Utah Medical Association opposes this initiative.

Traffic Fatalities and Crime Will Increase

States that have legalized marijuana have seen dramatic increases in marijuana-related traffic accidents and deaths. These states have also seen an increase in criminal marijuana activity. This is one reason the Utah law enforcement community opposes this initiative.

Cities Will Have No Control Over Marijuana Operations

Elected city and county officials will not be able to prevent large marijuana-growing warehouses, dispensaries, or other marijuana-related businesses from operating in our community. Marijuana could be sold as close as 300 feet to our homes and only 600 feet from schools, parks, and playgrounds. That’s why many local community leaders oppose this initiative.

Taxpayers Will Foot the Bill

This marijuana initiative is costly to taxpayers because it allows cash-only dispensaries to sell marijuana without charging sales tax. The state of Utah will be forced to regulate this new multimillion dollar industry with no offsetting tax to pay for it. Big Marijuana gets rich and we get the bill.

Utah Is Already Helping Patients

We support medical marijuana when administered in the same manner as any other legitimate drug – through a physician and pharmacist. In addition to FDA approval of a marijuana extract for seizures, Utah has already approved science-based and medically sound treatments derived from marijuana for patients with specific needs.

Conclusion

This initiative is highly dangerous. It artfully conceals intentions that go far beyond the simplistic description given by initiative proponents. They are funded by a powerful pro-marijuana lobbying organization based in Washington, DC, that exploits the plight of the sick to further their ultimate goal of recreational marijuana.

Vote “AGAINST” this costly, unnecessary, and dangerous initiative.

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENT AGAINST

The Utah Medical Cannabis Act (Prop 2) will be among the most conservative medical cannabis programs in the country, according to Americans for Safe Access. In fact, it would be the only program that bans both smoking and home cultivation. The arguments against Prop 2 are shrouded in fear and hyperbole.

Opponents claim the initiative “promotes widespread recreational use.” This is false. Absolutely no recreational use is allowed. Instead, a patient with an approved condition must be given access by a medical provider who also has legal authority to prescribe opioids.

The vast majority of Utahns support Prop 2, including many law enforcement officers, doctors, and lawmakers. With diverse backgrounds and views, we all agree on this point: patients should not be treated as criminals.

Scientists throughout the world, especially in Israel, have clinically researched the benefits of cannabis for decades. Utahns can benefit from this vast library of knowledge. While more research is always better, the opposition fails to embrace the profound amount of scientific research validating medical cannabis.

Think of your loved ones who suffer from cancer, MS, chronic pain, epilepsy, and more. What would you want for them? Forcing families to choose between fleeing the state or breaking the law and risking losing their job or children is neither reasonable nor compassionate.

We urge you to set aside the opposition’s fearmongering and let Utah join thirty other states with patient access to medical cannabis, under a doctor’s supervision.

Support medical patients. Vote FOR Prop 2.

(3) If the court finds that one parent does not desire custody of the child, the court shall take that evidence into consideration in determining whether custody of the child, including allowing the child frequent and continuing contact with the noncustodial parent as the court finds appropriate.

Section 30-3-10. Custody of children in case of separation or divorce -- Custody consideration.

(1) If a husband and wife having minor children are separated, or their marriage is declared void or dissolved, the court shall make an order for the future care and custody of the minor children as it considers appropriate.

(a) In determining any form of custody, including a change in custody, the court shall consider the best interests of the child without preference for either the mother or father solely because of the biological sex of the parent and, among other factors the court finds relevant, the following:

(i) the past conduct and demonstrated moral standards of each of the parties;
(ii) which parent is most likely to act in the best interest of the child, including allowing the child frequent and continuing contact with the noncustodial parent;
(iii) the extent of bonding between the parent and child, meaning the depth, quality, and nature of the relationship between a parent and child; and
(iv) the factors outlined in Section 30-3-10.2.

(b) There shall be a rebuttable presumption that joint legal custody, as defined in Section 30-3-10.1, is in the best interest of the child, except in cases where there is:

(i) domestic violence in the home or in the presence of the child;
(ii) special physical or mental needs of a parent or child, making joint legal custody unreasonable;
(iii) physical distance between the residences of the parents, making joint decision making impractical in certain circumstances; or
(iv) any other factor the court considers relevant including those listed in this section and Section 30-3-10.2.

(c) The person who desires joint legal custody shall file a proposed parenting plan in accordance with Sections 30-3-10.8 and 30-3-10.9. A presumption for joint legal custody may be rebutted by a showing by a preponderance of the evidence that it is not in the best interest of the child.

(d) The children may not be required by either party to testify unless the trier of fact determines that extenuating circumstances exist that would necessitate the testimony of the children be heard and there is no other reasonable method to present their testimony.

(e) The court may inquire of the children and take into consideration the children’s desires regarding future custody or parent-time schedules, but the expressed desires are not controlling and the court may determine the children’s custody or parent-time otherwise. The desires of a child 14 years of age or older shall be given added weight, but is not the single controlling factor.

(f) If interviews with the children are conducted by the court pursuant to Subsection (1)(e), they shall be conducted by the judge in camera. The prior consent of the parties may be obtained but is not necessary if the court finds that an interview with the children is the only method to ascertain the child’s desires regarding custody.

(2) In awarding custody, the court shall consider, among other factors the court finds relevant, which parent is most likely to act in the best interests of the child, including allowing the child frequent and continuing contact with the noncustodial parent as the court finds appropriate.

(3) If the court finds that one parent does not desire custody of the child, the court shall take that evidence into consideration in determining whether to award custody to the other parent.

(4) (a) Except as provided in Subsection (4)(b), a court may not discriminate against a parent due to a disability, as defined in Section 57-21-2, in awarding custody or determining whether a substantial change has occurred for the purpose of modifying an award of custody.

(b) If a court takes a parent’s disability into account in awarding custody or determining whether a substantial change has occurred for the purpose of modifying an award of custody, the parent with a disability may rebut any evidence, presumption, or inference arising from the disability by showing that:

(i) the disability does not significantly or substantially inhibit the parent’s ability to provide for the physical and emotional needs of the child at issue; or
(ii) the parent with a disability has sufficient human, monetary, or other resources available to supplement the parent’s ability to provide for the physical and emotional needs of the child at issue.

(c) Nothing in this section may be construed to apply to adoption proceedings under Title 78B, Chapter 6, Part 1, Utah Adoption Act.

(5) This section establishes neither a preference nor a presumption for or against joint physical custody or sole physical custody, but allows the court and the family the widest discretion to choose a parenting plan that is in the best interest of the child.

(6) In considering the past conduct and demonstrated moral standards of each of the parties as described under Subsection (1)(a)(i), a court may not discriminate against a parent because of the parent’s possession or consumption of cannabis, a cannabis product, or a medical cannabis device, in accordance with Title 26, Chapter 60b, Medical Cannabis Act, or because of the parent’s status as a cannabis production establishment agent in accordance with Title 4, Chapter 41b, a cannabis dispensary agent in accordance with Title 26, Chapter 60b, or a medical cannabis card holder in accordance with Title 26, Chapter 60b.

Section 67. Section 78A-6-508 is amended to read:
78A-6-508. Evidence of grounds for termination.
(1) In determining whether a parent or parents have abandoned a child, it is prima facie evidence of abandonment that the parent or parents:
(a) although having legal custody of the child, have surrendered physical custody of the child, and for a period of six months following the surrender have not manifested to the child or to the person having the physical custody of the child a firm intention to resume physical custody or to make arrangements for the care of the child;
(b) have failed to communicate with the child by mail, telephone, or otherwise for six months;
(c) failed to have shown the normal interest of a natural parent, without just cause; or
(d) have abandoned an infant, as described in Subsection 78A-6-316(1).
(2) In determining whether a parent or parents are unfit or have neglected a child the court shall consider, but is not limited to, the following circumstances, conduct, or conditions:
(a) emotional illness, mental illness, or mental deficiency of the parent that renders the parent unable to care for the immediate and continuing physical or emotional needs of the child for extended periods of time;
(b) conduct toward a child of a physically, emotionally, or sexually cruel or abusive nature;
(c) habitual or excessive use of intoxicating liquors, controlled substances, or dangerous drugs that render the parent unable to care for the child;
(d) repeated or continuous failure to provide the child with adequate food, clothing, shelter, education, or other care necessary for the child's physical, mental, and emotional health and development by a parent or parents who are capable of providing that care;
(e) whether the parent is incarcerated as a result of conviction of a felony, and the sentence is of such length that the child will be deprived of a normal home for more than one year;
(f) a history of violent behavior; or
(g) whether the parent has intentionally exposed the child to pornography or material harmful to a minor, as defined in Section 76-10-1201.
(3) Notwithstanding Subsection (2)(c), the court may not discriminate against a parent because of the parent's possession or consumption of cannabis, a cannabis product, or a medical cannabis device, in accordance with Title 26, Chapter 60b, Medical Cannabis Act.
[(3) (4) A parent who, legitimately practicing the parent's religious beliefs, does not provide specified medical treatment for a child is not, for that reason alone, a negligent or unfit parent.
[(4) (5) (a) Notwithstanding Subsection (2), a parent may not be considered neglectful or unfit because of a health care decision made for a child by the child's parent unless the state or other party to the proceeding shows, by clear and convincing evidence, that the health care decision is not reasonable and informed.
(b) Nothing in Subsection [(4) (5)(a) may prohibit a parent from exercising the right to obtain a second health care opinion.
[(5) (6) If a child has been placed in the custody of the division and the parent or parents fail to comply substantially with the terms and conditions of a plan within six months after the date on which the child was placed or the plan was commenced, whichever occurs later, that failure to comply is evidence of failure of parental adjustment.

(a) sexual abuse, sexual exploitation, injury, or death of a sibling of the child, or of any child, due to known or substantiated abuse or neglect by the parent or parents;

to the extent necessary for the child's physical, mental, or emotional health and development;
(c) a single incident of life-threatening or gravely disabling injury to or disfigurement of the child;
(d) the parent has committed, aided, abetted, attempted, conspired, or solicited to commit murder or manslaughter of a child or child abuse homic-cide; or
(e) the parent intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly causes the death of another parent of the child, without legal justification.
Section 68. Override clause.
This bill overrides, replaces, takes precedent over, and otherwise governs in place of any conflicting or contradictory legislation passed during a general session of the Utah Legislature before enactment of this law.

FISCAL IMPACT ESTIMATE

The Governor's Office of Management and Budget estimates the law proposed by this initiative would result in total fiscal expenses of $2,900,000 ($1,800,000 ongoing and $1,100,000 one-time).

Fee collections would cover about $1,400,000 of ongoing costs. General state revenues would be required for remaining ongoing costs ($400,000) and all one-time costs ($1,100,000).

Under the proposed sales tax exemption, the state and local governments may initially forego $1,600,000 in sales tax revenue. Foregone revenue could increase over time if consumption and taxable sales increase in the later years following implementation.

Consumer and firm behavior different than assumed would alter these estimates.
Shall a law be enacted to:

- expand the state Medicaid health coverage program to include coverage, based on income, for previously ineligible low-income adults;
- maintain the following as they existed on January 1, 2017:
  - eligibility standards, benefits, and patient costs for Medicaid and the Children’s Health Insurance Program (CHIP); and
  - the payment rate for healthcare providers under Medicaid and CHIP; and
- use the tax increase described below to pay for Medicaid and CHIP?

Proposition Number 3 makes three main changes to state law relating to Medicaid and the Children’s Health Insurance Program (CHIP). First, it expands the state Medicaid program to include coverage, based on income, for previously ineligible low-income adults. Second, it preserves the existing scope of the state’s Medicaid and CHIP programs. Third, it increases the state sales tax rate from 4.70% to 4.85% and directs the resulting revenue toward paying for the changes to Medicaid and CHIP made by the Proposition.

Background

Medicaid is a government-sponsored health insurance program for eligible low-income adults, children, pregnant women, elderly adults, and people with disabilities. Medicaid was established by the federal government but is administered by the states through state-run programs. Each state’s program must meet certain minimum federal requirements but can vary widely. The programs are funded in part by the federal government and in part by the state government.

Historically, an adult qualified for Medicaid coverage only if the adult had a low income and belonged to a designated eligibility category—pregnant, parent, aged, blind, or disabled. That changed with the federal government’s passage of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act. The Affordable Care Act gave states the option of expanding Medicaid eligibility in their state by allowing adults under 65 years of age with incomes below 138% of the federal poverty level to qualify for coverage based solely on their income, without belonging to a designated eligibility category. Individuals in this group are called “newly eligible.” To date, Utah has not expanded its Medicaid program to cover all newly eligible individuals.

Similar to Medicaid, CHIP is a government-sponsored health insurance program that was established by the federal government, is administered by the states, and is funded in part by the federal government and in part by the state government. CHIP builds on Medicaid by providing health coverage to low-income children whose families earn too much money to qualify for Medicaid.

Effect of Proposition Number 3

Expanding Medicaid

Beginning April 1, 2019, Proposition 3 expands eligibility for Medicaid to include all newly eligible individuals under the Affordable Care Act—adults under 65 years of age with incomes below 138% of the federal poverty level who are not currently eligible for Medicaid.

Preserving the Scope of Medicaid and CHIP

Proposition 3 preserves certain aspects of the state’s Medicaid and CHIP programs as they existed on January 1, 2017 to set a baseline for the scope of coverage and benefits available under each program going forward. By establishing the baselines, the Proposition prohibits future changes to the programs that would reduce the coverage or available benefits, but it allows changes that would expand them. More specifically, the Proposition provides that:

- the standards, methodologies, and procedures for determining eligibility for Medicaid and CHIP cannot be made more restrictive than they were on January 1, 2017;
- there cannot be any limits on Medicaid enrollment beyond those in place on January 1, 2017;
PROPOSITION NUMBER 3

- the categories of care or services and the types of benefits provided under Medicaid and CHIP cannot be made more restrictive than they were on January 1, 2017;
- any premium, beneficiary enrollment fee, or cost sharing requirements, including co-payments, co-insurance, deductibles, or out-of-pocket maximums, cannot be increased from what they were on January 1, 2017; and
- Medicaid’s and CHIP’s payments to healthcare providers, like hospitals and physicians, cannot be made at a rate less than the rate paid on January 1, 2017, adjusting annually for inflation.

Funding Medicaid Expansion

Under the Affordable Care Act as it currently exists, the federal government will pay approximately 90% of the cost of the newly eligible individuals who gain Medicaid coverage under Proposition 3, and the state government must pay the remainder. Beginning April 1, 2019, Proposition 3 increases the state sales tax rate from 4.70% to 4.85% and directs the resulting revenue toward paying the state’s portion. The increase does not apply to groceries. The Proposition requires the revenue from the 0.15% increase to be used primarily for expanding Medicaid eligibility to the newly eligible, but it provides that any remaining revenue can be used to fund Medicaid or CHIP more generally.

Fiscal Impact

The following fiscal impact statement is based on figures provided by the legislative fiscal analyst.

Proposition 3 may result in approximately 150,000 newly eligible individuals enrolling in the state Medicaid program in fiscal year 2020, and approximately 5,000 additional newly eligible individuals enrolling each year thereafter. Additionally, approximately 20,000 children who are currently eligible for Medicaid but not enrolled may enroll once their parents become eligible.

The increase to the state sales tax rate contained in Proposition 3 will generate additional tax revenue for the state to direct toward the cost of expanding Medicaid coverage to the newly eligible. The chart below summarizes the anticipated cost associated with expanding Medicaid eligibility under Proposition 3 and the state revenue Proposition 3 is expected to generate. The figures in the chart assume the enrollment growth described above and no changes to federal law.

The actual cost of Medicaid expansion under Proposition 3 and the amount of additional revenue the state collects from the increase to the state sale tax rate will vary based on numerous factors, including population growth, business investment, consumer behavior, economic conditions, and policy changes.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR

Proposition 3 provides access to healthcare for more than 150,000 Utahns and brings nearly $800 million in federal funding back to our state every year from Washington D.C. – money that is already set aside for Utah. It’s money 33 other states already get, but we’ve been losing out on for years. Proposition 3 creates nearly 14,000 new jobs and generates $1.7 billion in new economic activity for our state.

Medicaid expansion is a good deal for Utah and helps provide life-saving healthcare to Utahns who earn less than $17,000 a year, including parents and people with chronic illnesses who are often forced to choose between putting food on the table and getting treatments for diseases like cancer or diabetes.

Proposition 3 was also crafted to ensure that hard-working Utahns who earn a promotion or take on more hours to get ahead won’t have their healthcare taken away. With this initiative, Medicaid covers working Utahns as they pull themselves out of poverty, and it rewards hard work—instead of punishing it by cutting off somebody’s healthcare.

The Governor’s Office of Management and Budget concluded that this program would be fiscally sound. It enables Utah taxpayers to expand healthcare access while promoting individual responsibility and smart use of public monies. Proposition 3 is accompanied with a sales tax increase on non-food items equivalent to about one cent on the cost of a movie ticket. This investment enables Utah to bring home nine times that amount in federal dollars every year.

AARP supports this measure because “Proposition 3 allows us to be fiscally responsible and significantly improve the lives of our families and neighbors most in need.” This measure lets Utahns take control of our healthcare system, expand access to quality, affordable healthcare, and return Utah’s federal tax dollars to our state. Vote “YES” on Proposition 3.

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENT IN FAVOR

The Utah Legislature already expanded Medicaid to close the coverage gap created by Obamacare. Those who currently have access to health insurance through that law will be able to keep it, while those who make too little to qualify will have access to Medicaid. This solution will be paid for with no sales tax increase and no additional state spending.

To say that those who earn a promotion or work to get ahead will have their healthcare taken away as a result of earning more money is simply not true. Medicaid always ends when the recipient makes a dollar above what is allowed. Proposition #3 does nothing to change that fact, nor would the federal government permit it.

The Governor’s Office of Management and Budget (GOMB) also responded to claims made by the proponents of Proposition #3 by stating: “The Argument FOR Proposition #3 blatantly mischaracterizes GOMB’s fiscal impact statement and willfully ignores express communication about the limited scope and use of the fiscal impact estimates. GOMB has not concluded that this initiative program is fiscally sound. To the contrary, GOMB explicitly warned in its fiscal estimate that Proposition #3 could be fiscally unsound in future years.”

Proposition #3 is not fiscally responsible. It exposes Utah to great risk and uncertainty by taking away state flexibility to innovate and address the underlying problems at the heart of poverty.

Voters should not be swayed by false claims and misguided analysis, and should vote NO on Proposition #3.

ARGUMENT AGAINST

This Initiative is Bad Policy

Expanding Medicaid eligibility as originally envisioned by the Affordable Care Act (Obamacare), as this initiative does, is bad policy.

Medicaid was designed to help the most needy obtain healthcare, but this initiative incentivizes more spending on able-bodied adults than on the vulnerable. Similar expansions in other states have led to reductions in services for the disabled as state budgets have been squeezed by increases in funding for the expansion population. Many have also experienced budget shortfalls that could ultimately require even greater tax increases, or spending cuts to things like education, other programs for the needy, roads and public safety.

This initiative contains a tax increase on Utah families of $90 million annually, amounting to nearly $1 billion over 10 years. Before we raise taxes and spend more on working age, able-bodied adults, we should first clear out the waiting list of 2,900 disabled Utahns who currently don’t have access to home and community-based care.

With this full Obamacare expansion, the state loses the ability to change or modify the program, as the federal government has complete control and will force compliance. We would have no ability to limit enrollment or implement cost controls to protect Utah taxpayers, who would be forced to pay an ever-growing bill.

Social, health and human services already represent the largest portion of our state budget. This initiative would leave taxpayers with a program on autopilot, a zombie program that would be financially devastating to our state. If federal officials do not approve all portions of the initiative, Utah will be forced to pay for it in its entirety, which is estimated to cost over $700 million per year. The state would have no choice but to cut other essential services even further.

Utahns expect and deserve a responsible and compassionate solution to care for the most vulnerable among us. Greater access to healthcare for those in need has already been achieved through careful study and consideration. The state, through legislation, has extended Medicaid to the poor and needy in a responsible way that will help people move from poverty to self-reliance, with no new state money. It also allows us to make adjustments to coverage to keep the program from growing to an unsustainable level.

Those who suggest that opposing this initiative indicates a lack of compassion are simply wrong. Even those who support a broader social safety net should be wary of this deeply flawed, one-size-fits-all model.

We already have a responsible, compassionate Utah solution to care for our most vulnerable. This initiative goes too far.

Please join us as we respectfully vote “no thank you” to the federal government’s offer to create yet another new entitlement program by voting against Proposition 3.

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENT AGAINST

Proposition 3 protects hard-working families and returns taxpayer money to Utah, where it belongs.

Medicaid expansion will return taxpayer dollars back to our state every year to benefit Utahns and grow our economy. Proposition 3 will bring home nine federal dollars for every state dollar spent. If someone offered you nine dollars if you gave them one, that’s a deal most of us would take every single time.

Thirty-three states have already expanded Medicaid, resulting in substantial job benefits and economic growth compared to non-expansion states. Independent economists say that Proposition 3 will grow our economy by $1.7 billion, creating nearly 14,000 jobs and providing workers and small business owners with nearly $785 million in new income in the next three years. Not one of those 33 states have reversed its decision. Instead, states have determined that expansion has boosted their economies, improved health outcomes and increased healthcare access.

Proposition 3’s conservative approach protects taxpayer money and ensures that funds go directly where needed. The 10 percent state match needed to trigger federal funding for Medicaid expansion would come from a sales tax increase on non-food items, equivalent to about one cent on a movie ticket. Those funds will provide healthcare access to 150,000 Utahns, including parents and those with chronic illnesses.

Proposition 3 is a commonsense decision to return tax dollars to our state, grow our economy, protect small businesses, and provide life-saving healthcare to individuals earning less than $17,000 annually.

FULL TEXT OF PROPOSITION NUMBER 3

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Utah:

Section 1. Title.
This act shall be known as the “Utah Decides Healthcare Act of 2018.”
Section 2. Section 26-18-3.9 is enacted to read:

26-18-3.9. Protecting and expanding the Medicaid program and Utah Children’s Health Insurance Program.

(1) Findings and purpose:

(a) Findings. The People of the State of Utah find that:

(i) Adequate medical care is crucial to the health and welfare of the residents of Utah;

(ii) It is essential that all Utahns have access to medical care, including preventive care, emergency services, and hospital care;

(iii) Utah’s Medicaid program and CHIP provide care to Utahns who are unable to afford private health insurance and are not eligible for other health insurance. Medicaid and CHIP are vital parts of the Utah health care system and it is essential that they continue to provide health care for the most vulnerable citizens of our state;

(iv) However, over 250,000 Utahns remain uninsured and do not have adequate access to health care. Over 100,000 of the uninsured would be covered by Medicaid if the State of Utah were to expand eligibility to all individuals who are in the federal optional Medicaid expansion population, as defined as of January 1, 2017;

(v) When people don’t have access to care they are far more likely to develop chronic conditions, like diabetes or asthma, that often require expensive treatment for a patient’s entire life, resulting in unnecessary suffering and driving up the cost of healthcare;

(vi) When medical providers provide care for which patients are not insured, the cost of that care is passed on to others, thus increasing the cost of medical care for all Utah residents;

(vii) It is critical to the survival of the Medicaid program that it remain adequately funded so that it can provide needed medical services to those who otherwise would not have access to care, and can compensate the providers who serve participants. The compensation to providers must be adequate to encourage providers to continue to treat patients on Medicaid; and

(viii) From moral, health and fiscal perspectives, protecting and expanding the Medicaid program in Utah is essential to maintaining the quality of life in our state.

(b) Purpose. The purpose of this measure is to preserve and strengthen medical care in the State of Utah by the following:

(i) Protecting Medicaid and CHIP so that they can continue to provide medical care to those who are currently eligible, and

(ii) Expanding Medicaid eligibility to adults who are in the federal optional Medicaid expansion population, as defined as of January 1, 2017.

(2) Eligibility. As set forth in Subsections 2(2)(a) through 2(2)(d), eligibility criteria for the Medicaid program shall be maintained as they existed on January 1, 2017 and also expanded to cover additional low-income individuals.

(a) The standards, methodologies, and procedures for determining eligibility for the Medicaid program and CHIP shall be no more restrictive than the eligibility standards, methodologies, and procedures, respectively, that were in effect on January 1, 2017.

(b) Notwithstanding Sections 26-18-18 and 63J-5-204, beginning April 1, 2019, eligibility for the Medicaid program shall be expanded to include all persons in the optional Medicaid expansion population under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, Pub. L. No. 111-148 and the Health Care Education Reconciliation Act of 2010, Pub. L. No. 111-152, and related federal regulations and guidance, as those statutory and regulatory provisions and guidance existed on January 1, 2017.

(c) There shall be no caps on enrollment beyond those in place as of January 1, 2017.

(d) The eligibility criteria in Subsection 2(2)(b) shall be construed to include all individuals eligible for the health coverage improvement program under Section 26-18-411.

(3) Care and Services. For each enrollment group or category in the Medicaid program and CHIP, the categories of care or services and the types of benefits provided in each category shall be no more restrictive than the categories of care or services and the types of benefits provided on January 1, 2017. Such services and benefits shall be provided in sufficient amount, duration, and scope to achieve their purposes.

(4) Out-of-Pocket Costs. Any premium, beneficiary enrollment fee, and cost sharing requirement applicable to care and services described in this section, including but not limited to co-pay, co-insurance, deductible, or out-of-pocket maximum, shall be no greater than those in effect on January 1, 2017.

(5) Provider payments.

(a) Payments to providers under the Medicaid program and CHIP for covered care and services shall be made at a rate not less than 100% of the payment rate that applied to such care and services on January 1, 2017, and shall increase annually at a rate not less than the region’s Consumer Price Index.

(b) Managed care.

(i) If the department contracts with an accountable care organization or other organization to cover care and services under the Medicaid program or CHIP, a contract with that organization shall provide that the organization shall make payments to providers for items and services that are subject to the contract and that are furnished to individuals eligible for the Medicaid program or CHIP at a rate not less than 100% of the payment rate that at least one accountable care organization that contracted with the department paid for such care and services on January 1, 2017 (regardless of the manner in which such payments are made, including in the form of capitation or partial capitation), and that the minimum payment required by this provision will increase annually at a rate not less than the region’s Consumer Price Index.

(ii) Payments by the department to accountable care organizations or other organizations shall be sufficient for the organizations to comply with the provider payment rate requirements of this section.

(c) This subsection (5) shall not apply to physician reimbursement for drugs or devices.

(6) Nothing in this section shall prevent the people acting through initiative, the Legislature by statute, or the department by promulgating rules from:

(a) Expanding eligibility by adopting less restrictive eligibility standards, methodologies, or procedures than those permitted by Subsection (2);

(b) Expanding covered care and services by adding to the list, amount, duration, or scope of covered care and services required by Subsection (3);

(c) Reducing premiums, beneficiary enrollment fees, or cost sharing requirements below the maximum levels permitted by Subsection (4); or

(d) Increasing provider payments above the minimum payments required by Subsection (5).

(7) For purposes of this section:

(a) The “Medicaid program” means the Medicaid program defined by Section 26-18-2, including any waivers.

(b) The Utah Children’s Health Insurance Program” or “CHIP” means the Utah Children’s Health Insurance Program created in Chapter 40, Utah Children’s Health Insurance Act.

(8) The department shall maximize federal financial participation in implementing this section, including by seeking to obtain any necessary federal approvals or waivers.

(9) This section and Section 26-18-3.1(4) shall not apply to CHIP in any year for which the State Children’s Health Insurance Program, as described in Subchapter XXI, 42 U.S.C. Sec. 1397aa et seq., is not extended at the federal level.

(10) Notwithstanding Sections 17-43-201 and 17-43-301, a county does not have to provide matching funds to the state for the cost of providing Medicaid services to newly enrolled individuals who qualify for Medicaid coverage under Subsection (2)(b).

(11) Severability. If any provision of this section or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of this section shall be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this section are severable.
Section 3. Section 26-18-3.1 is amended to read:

26-18-3.1. Medicaid expansion

(1) The purpose of this section is to expand the coverage of the Medicaid program to persons who are in categories traditionally not served by that program.

(2) Within appropriations from the Legislature, the department may amend the state plan for medical assistance to provide for eligibility for Medicaid:
   (a) on or after July 1, 1994, for children 12 to 17 years old who live in households below the federal poverty income guideline; and
   (b) on or after July 1, 1995, for persons who have incomes below the federal poverty income guideline and who are aged, blind, or have a disability.

(3) (a) Within appropriations from the Legislature, on or after July 1, 1996, the Medicaid program may provide for eligibility for persons who have incomes below the federal poverty income guideline.
   (b) In order to meet the provisions of this subsection, the department may seek approval for a demonstration project under 42 U.S.C. Section 1315 from the secretary of the United States Department of Health and Human Services. This demonstration project may also provide for the voluntary participation of private firms that:
      (i) are newly established or marginally profitable;
      (ii) do not provide health insurance to their employees;
      (iii) employ predominantly low wage workers; and
      (iv) are unable to obtain adequate and affordable health care insurance in the private market.

(4) The Medicaid program shall provide for eligibility for persons as required by Section 26-18-3.9(2).

(5) Subject to the requirements of Section 26-18-3.9(2) and (3), services [Services] available for persons described in this section shall include required Medicaid services and may include one or more optional Medicaid services if those services are funded by the Legislature. Subject to the requirements of Section 26-18-3.9(2), the [The] department may also require persons described in this section to meet an asset test.

Section 4. Section 59-12-103 is amended to read:

(i) on or before September 30, 2019, transfer the amount of revenue generated by a 0.15% tax rate imposed beginning on April 1, 2019, and ending on June 30, 2019, on the transactions that are subject to the sales and use tax under Subsection (2)(a)(i)(A) as dedicated credits to the Division of Health Care Financing; and

(ii) for a fiscal year beginning on or after fiscal year 2019-20, annually transfer the amount of revenue generated by a 0.15% tax rate on the transactions that are subject to the sales and use tax under Subsection (2)(a)(i)(A) as dedicated credits to the Division of Health Care Financing.

(c) The revenue described in Subsection (14)(b) that the Division of Finance transfers to the Division of Health Care Financing as dedicated credits shall be expended for the following uses:

(i) implementation of the Medicaid expansion described in Sections 26-18-3.1(a) and 26-18-3.9(2)(b);

(ii) if revenue remains after the use specified in Subsection (14)(c)(i), other measures required by Section 26-18-3.9; and

Section 5. Competing Measures and Conflicting Provisions.

It is the intent of the People that, notwithstanding Section 20A-7-211(3)(b) or any other provision of law, the 0.15 percent increase to the state sales tax in Section 4 be enacted notwithstanding any other increase or adjustment to such rate enacted by the Legislature or by any law submitted to the people by initiative petition that is approved by the voters at the same election. It is also the intent of the People that the enactment of the Utah Decides Healthcare Act of 2018 accomplish the purposes identified in Section 2 and that this act supersede any other provision of law that conflicts with this act. This section shall not be construed to alter the power given to the Legislature under Section 20A-7-212(3)(b).

Section 6. Coordinating the Utah Decides Healthcare Act of 2018 with the Teacher and Student Success Act.

If this act and the Teacher and Student Success Act, an initiative sponsored by Our Schools Now, are both approved by the voters at the same election, it is the intent of the People that the Office of Legislative Research and General Counsel prepare the amendments to Sections 59-12-103 in this act and the Teacher and Student Success Act for publication in the Utah Code by amending Subsections 59-12-103(2)(a), (7)(a), (8)(c), and (13) and adding Subsections 59-12-103(14) and (15) to read:

(2) (a) Except as provided in Subsections (2)(b) through (e), a state tax and a local tax is imposed on a transaction described in Subsection (1) equal to the sum of:

(i) a state tax imposed on the transaction at a tax rate equal to the sum of:

(A)(i) through March 31, 2019, 4.70%; and

(B)(i) the tax rate the state imposes in accordance with Part 18, Additional State Sales and Use Tax Act, if the location of the transaction as determined under Sections 59-12-211 through 59-12-215 is in a county in which the state imposes the tax under Part 18, Additional State Sales and Use Tax Act; and

(ii) the tax rate the state imposes in accordance with Part 20, Supplemental State Sales and Use Tax Act, if the location of the transaction as determined under Sections 59-12-211 through 59-12-215 is in a city, town, or the unincorporated area of a county in which the state imposes the tax under Part 20, Supplemental State Sales and Use Tax Act; and

(ii) a local tax equal to the sum of the tax rates a county, city, or town imposes on the transaction under this chapter other than this part.

(7) (a) Notwithstanding Subsection (3)(a), in addition to the amounts deposited in Subsection (6), and subject to Subsection (7)(b), for a fiscal year beginning on or after July 1, 2012, the Division of Finance shall deposit into the Transportation Investment Fund of 2005 created by Section 72-2-124:

(i) a portion of the taxes listed under Subsection (3)(a) in an amount equal to 8.3% of the revenues collected from the following taxes, which represents a portion of the approximately 17% of sales and use tax revenues generated annually by the sales and use tax on vehicles and vehicle-related products:

(A) the tax imposed by Subsection (2)(a)(i)(A) at a 4.7% rate;

(B) the tax imposed by Subsection (2)(b)(i);

(C) the tax imposed by Subsection (2)(c)(i); and

(D) the tax imposed by Subsection (2)(d)(i)(A)(i); plus

FISCAL IMPACT ESTIMATE

The Governor’s Office of Management and Budget estimates that this proposed initiative would, in fiscal year 2021 (upon full phase-in of the federal Affordable Care Act):

- Result in new state fiscal expenses of about $77,000,000 for Medicaid services
- Increase state sales taxes by about $90,000,000 by increasing the state sales tax rate by 0.15%, from 4.70% to 4.85% (a 3.2% increase from the current tax rate).

Beyond FY 2021, costs could outpace new revenue depending on actual cost and revenue trajectories. Estimates could vary with changes in federal law, federal funding, taxpayer behavior and Medicaid recipient behavior, among other factors.

In addition, the cost of posting information regarding the proposed initiative in Utah’s statewide newspapers and for printing additional pages in the voter information pamphlet is estimated at $30,000 in one-time funds.

This initiative seeks to increase the current state sales tax rate by 0.15%, resulting in a 3.191% increase in the current tax rate.
Shall a law be enacted to:

- create a seven-member commission to recommend redistricting plans to the Legislature that divide the state into Congressional, legislative, and state school board districts;
- provide for appointments to that commission: one by the Governor, three by legislative majority party leaders, and three by legislative minority party leaders;
- provide qualifications for commission members, including limitations on their political activity;
- require the Legislature to enact or reject a commission-recommended plan; and
- establish requirements for redistricting plans and authorize lawsuits to block implementation of a redistricting plan enacted by the Legislature that fails to conform to those requirements?

IMPARTIAL ANALYSIS

Background

The state is divided into different types of districts for electing different officers. There are districts for electing representatives to the U.S. House of Representatives, districts for electing members to the Utah Legislature, and districts for electing representatives to the State Board of Education. Under federal constitutional law requiring one person’s voting power to be roughly the same as another person’s, each type of district is required to have at least a roughly equal population as each other district of that type.

Every 10 years, the federal government conducts a census to count the population of each state. During the 10-year period from one census to the next, the population of the state shifts, resulting in unequal populations within the various districts. Following each census, the Legislature redefines the boundaries of those districts to ensure roughly equal populations within the districts. This redefining of district boundaries is commonly referred to as “redistricting.”

Proposition 4

Proposition 4 affects redistricting in Utah in three main ways: (1) it creates a seven-member appointed commission to participate in the process of formulating redistricting plans; (2) it imposes requirements on the Legislature’s redistricting process; and (3) it establishes standards with which redistricting plans must comply.

1. Redistricting Commission

   Current Law

   The Utah Constitution states that “the Legislature shall divide the state” into districts. Current Utah law does not provide for the involvement of a commission or any other group in the redistricting process.

   Effect of Proposition 4

   Proposition 4 creates the “Utah Independent Redistricting Commission,” with responsibility to recommend redistricting plans to the Legislature. The redistricting commission consists of seven members. One member is appointed by each of the following:
   - the governor;
   - the president of the Utah Senate;
   - the speaker of the Utah House of Representatives;
   - the leader of the largest minority political party in the Utah Senate;
   - the leader of the largest minority political party in the Utah House of Representatives;
   - Utah Senate and House leadership of the political party that is the majority party in the Utah Senate; and
   - Utah Senate and House leadership of the political party that is the largest minority party in the Utah Senate.

   Under Proposition 4, a person may not be appointed to the commission if the person has engaged in certain political activity during the four or, in some cases, five years before appointment. The Proposition also places limitations on certain political activity of commission members during their service on the commission and for four years afterwards.

   Proposition 4 establishes a process for the commission to follow in recommending redistricting plans. Among other things, the Proposition requires the commission to:
PROPOSITION NUMBER 4

- make redistricting plans available to the public and hold public hearings; and
- assess whether redistricting plans comply with standards established by Proposition 4.

If the commission fails to submit redistricting plans to the Legislature by a specified deadline, the Utah Supreme Court chief justice is required to select plans for the commission to submit.

2. Legislature’s Redistricting Process

Current Law

Under current law, the Legislature performs redistricting according to a process it defines internally, with no limitations or requirements imposed by state law. The Legislature’s past redistricting process has included opportunities for the public to submit redistricting plans, a legislative redistricting committee to adopt redistricting standards and recommend plans, the posting of plans on the Legislature’s website, and public hearings around the state.

Effect of Proposition 4

Proposition 4 places requirements on the process that the Legislature uses to enact redistricting plans, including limits on when and the circumstances under which the Legislature may enact a redistricting plan.

Proposition 4 requires the Legislature to enact or reject a plan that the commission submits but does not limit the Legislature from enacting its own separate plan. The commission may require a plan being considered by the Legislature to undergo a commission assessment to determine whether it complies with standards established by the Proposition. If the Legislature enacts a plan other than one submitted by the commission, the Proposition requires the Legislature to publicly issue a detailed written report explaining why.

3. Standards Applicable to Redistricting Plans

Current Law

Redistricting plans enacted by the Legislature are required to comply with certain provisions of federal law, including a requirement that districts have roughly equal populations. Utah law does not specify additional standards with which redistricting plans must comply.

Effect of Proposition 4

Proposition 4 requires commission-recommended or Legislature-enacted redistricting plans, as much as possible, to:
- minimize the division of counties, cities, and towns;
- create districts that are geographically compact and in one unbroken piece;
- preserve traditional neighborhoods and local communities;
- follow natural and geographic features; and
- maximize boundary agreement among different types of districts.

The Proposition also prohibits the commission or Legislature from favoring or disfavoring incumbent elected officials or from considering partisan political information.

The Proposition authorizes any Utah resident to file a lawsuit requesting a court to block implementation of a redistricting plan enacted by the Legislature that fails to conform to the standards and requirements established by Proposition 4.

Potential Constitutional Conflicts

Proposition 4 raises the following potential conflicts with the United States Constitution or Utah Constitution:
- restricting former commission members from engaging in certain political activity after serving on the commission may conflict with freedom of speech and association guarantees of the First Amendment to the United States Constitution and similar guarantees under Article I, Sections 1 and 15 of the Utah Constitution;
- directing the Utah Supreme Court chief justice to select redistricting plans to recommend to the Legislature may violate separation of powers principles under Article V, Section 1 of the Utah Constitution; and
- requiring redistricting plans enacted by the Legislature to comply with certain standards and imposing other restrictions on the Legislature’s redistricting process may violate Article IX, Section 1 of the Utah Constitution.

Fiscal Impact

The legislative fiscal analyst estimates that implementing Proposition 4 may cost the state $1,015,500 every 10 years for commission and other redistricting-related expenses. The state may incur additional costs to defend lawsuits authorized by the Proposition.
VOTERS should choose their representatives, not vice versa.

Yet under current law, Utah politicians can choose their voters. Legislators draw their own legislative districts with minimal transparency, oversight, or checks on inherent conflicts of interest. As a result, politicians wield unbridled power to design districts to ensure their own re-election. This is called “gerrymandering.”

Gerrymandering is not new. But in recent years it has gotten out of control. Sophisticated computer modeling allows incumbents to craft districts with a precision the framers of the Utah Constitution could not have foreseen. Incumbents of both parties do this, with the result that Utah is divided into districts that empower politicians, not voters.

For example, Holladay City is splintered into four State House districts, two State Senate districts and two Congressional districts. Who benefits from this? Holladay voters don’t, but politicians do. Incumbents in safe districts are less responsive to voters and more responsive to special interests. In short, gerrymandering makes representative democracy less representative.

To be fair, we can’t expect legislators to fix the system. It benefits them. We the People must fix it.

Proposition 4 returns power to the voters and puts people first in our political system. It does this by enacting the Utah Independent Redistricting Commission and Standards Act. The Act addresses the problem of gerrymandering in two ways.

First, it creates a seven-member Independent Redistricting Commission. The Governor and Legislative leaders appoint the Commissioners, at least two of whom must be politically unaffiliated. To promote impartiality, lobbyists, current and recently retired elected officials, political party leaders, and government appointees may not serve as Commissioners. With citizen input, the Commission draws proposed district boundaries for Utah’s congressional, legislative, and State school board districts. It then submits these electoral maps to the Legislature as required by the Utah Constitution. The Legislature can enact or reject the Commission’s proposed maps. If it rejects them, it must explain why to the citizens.

Second, the Act requires that, in drawing districts, the Commission and the Legislature abide by common-sense redistricting standards to the greatest extent practicable. These standards include:

- Adhering to the U.S. and Utah Constitutions and other applicable law
- Preserving equal populations among districts
- Keeping municipalities and counties together
- Creating districts that are compact and contiguous
- Respecting traditional neighborhoods and communities of interest
- Following geographic features and natural barriers

Most importantly, the Act forbids drawing districts to unduly favor or disfavor any incumbent, candidate, or political party. And it allows Utah voters to challenge a map enacted by the Legislature that violates these standards.

By placing common-sense limits on politicians’ power to design their districts, Proposition 4 will ensure that our representative government serves people, not politicians. It will make the redistricting process more transparent, increase voter participation, and make the politicians we elect more responsive and accountable to the people who elect them.

In short, it will ensure that Utah voters have a government of the People, by the People, and for the People.

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENT IN FAVOR

Proposition 4 sponsors’ best argument seems to be that giving an unelected commission authority in the redistricting process will result in a more accountable government. If that is true, it must be done by a constitutional amendment and not by an initiative petition.

In 2011 the legislative redistricting committee held over thirty public, open, and transparent meetings throughout the state. They received and considered hundreds of public comments and even provided a dedicated website for citizens to draw, submit, and comment on maps.

Backed by Ralph Becker and other liberal Salt Lake City Democrats and funded by out of state interest groups, Proposition 4 is a cleverly disguised partisan power grab.

- It unconstitutionally gives redistricting authority to unelected bureaucrats and judges.
- It deliberately imposes vague and conflicting redistricting requirements to throw the doors wide open for lawsuits.
- 4 out of 5 of its sponsors are liberal Democrats from Salt Lake City (if you include the one who became Republican right before sponsoring).
- 70% of the nearly $1 Million behind the initiative are from OUT OF STATE special interest groups.
- Over half of the in-state donations came from inside of Salt Lake City proper.

The framers of the Utah Constitution ensured that redistricting would be anchored in the voice of the people by exclusively entrusting this authority to the legislature.

A vote for Proposition 4 is a vote to unconstitutionally silence the voice of the majority of people in Utah and allow unelected bureaucrats and judges redistricting authority.

ARGUMENT AGAINST

Proposition 4 is a cleverly disguised partisan plan to stifle the voice of the people of Utah as represented by the Legislature and unconstitutionally create an overwhelmingly Democrat congressional district around Salt Lake City.

Violates the Constitution

Inspired by the framers of our United States Constitution, the founders of Utah divided governmental power into three separate branches of government – the Executive, the Legislative, and the Judicial. The founders thought it was important to grant the legislature the exclusive authority over the redistricting process.

Proposition 4 blatantly violates the Utah Constitution by creating a redistricting commission and granting that commission and the Utah Supreme Court a role in the redistricting process. If we, as citizens of Utah, wish to grant this legislative authority to other branches of government, we must do it through a constitutional amendment not an initiative petition.

The Perfect Legal Storm

Over the past few redistricting cycles there have been hundreds of redistricting lawsuits in at least 40 states. In that time, not a single successful case has been brought against Utah due to our transparent, fair, and strictly constitutional redistricting process.

Proposition 4 deliberately imposes vague and conflicting redistricting requirements, it leaves multiple key terms undefined, and it grants any person or business with a Utah address the right to legally challenge redistricting plans. These provisions reveal the obvious underlying goal of this initiative is to create a perfect legal storm for lengthy lawsuits that result in the courts unconstitutionally redrawing district boundaries.

Better Boundaries for Whom?

District boundaries are redrawn by the legislature every ten years following the census to ensure that every district is represented by the same number of people. Because Utah’s population is growing – the growth in each district must be averaged out. This means slower growing districts must have boundaries that expand, while the surrounding faster growing districts must have boundaries that shrink.
This is precisely what is happening in and around Salt Lake City. Due to their significantly slower population growth rates, district boundaries around Salt Lake City must expand to gain population while the surrounding districts shrink to average out. Despite being their last strong-hold in the state, it is inevitable that these current growth patterns will continue to water-down Democrat representation. Faced with this fact, proponents of Proposition 4 are desperately trying to maintain and even increase their representation by creating an overwhelmingly Democrat district insulated from the rest of the state.

 Appropriately named by its Salt Lake City Democrat supporters, the “Better Boundaries Initiative,” begs the question: better boundaries for whom? Themselves.

Conclusion

Make no mistake about it, the backers of this initiative are not seeking to create a transparent, fair, and constitutionally sound redistricting process – we already have that. They are seeking to unconstitutionally pack what is now a competitive congressional district with Democrat voters to create a single, safe, and solidly Democrat congressional district for themselves.

Do not be fooled. Vote against Proposition 4.

REBUTTAL TO ARGUMENT AGAINST

Utah voters should not be surprised that the statement against Proposition 4 comes from a politician. Politicians are the only folks that benefit from gerrymandering. The current system presents a clear conflict of interest.

The opposition statement is also misleading; let’s focus on the facts.

First, Proposition 4 is a bi-partisan effort, led by members of both major parties. Over 190,000 Utahns from all across the State signed the petition, and polling shows that a majority of Utahns support it.

Second, Utahns overwhelmingly support Proposition 4 because it creates a transparent process. It favors no party or outcome. It merely creates sensible rules so that no one can rig the system.

Third, the State Constitution does not say our Legislature has “exclusive” authority to draw electoral maps. Proposition 4 is carefully designed to operate within the framework established by the Utah and U.S. Constitutions.

Fourth, the speculation that this Proposition will encourage litigation is misleading. Proposition 4 enacts common-sense redistricting standards. A map that respects those standards is unlikely to provoke baseless litigation, especially since the initiative also contains provisions to discourage frivolous lawsuits.

The fight against gerrymandering is about patriotism, not party. Ronald Reagan called gerrymandering an “un-American practice” contrary to “American values of fair play and decency.”

That’s why 18 other states have adopted some form of an independent redistricting commission. We need to end gerrymandering here in Utah once and for all. Don’t be distracted by misleading statements and scare tactics.

Vote for Proposition 4.

FISCAL IMPACT ESTIMATE

The Governor’s Office of Management and Budget estimates that the law proposed by this initiative would result in a total fiscal expense of approximately $1 million.

How does Utah choose its judges?

The Utah Constitution states: “Selection of judges shall be based solely upon consideration of fitness for office without regard to any partisan political consideration.” To fulfill this mandate, Utah selects its state court judges through a process called Merit Selection.

Merit Selection involves four steps: 1) nomination, 2) appointment, 3) confirmation, and 4) retention election. A committee of lawyers and non-lawyers selected by the Governor reviews judicial applications, conducts interviews, and then nominates the five best-qualified applicants for each trial court judgeship and the seven best-qualified applicants for each appellate court judgeship. The Governor then interviews all nominees and appoints one, who must then be confirmed by a majority of the Utah State Senate.

After confirmation and the first three years of service, the new judge’s name appears on the ballot for a “yes” or “no” retention vote by the public to determine whether the judge may serve another term of office. Supreme Court justices serve 10-year terms; all other judges serve six-year terms.

Why does Utah use Merit Selection? This method of selecting judges is widely considered the best way to balance the need for judges to be accountable to the public with the equally important need for the judiciary to function independently. Judges serve the public and should answer to the public. That’s why Utah has retention elections – to give every citizen the right to weigh in on judges. Of equal importance, though, every judge must resolve disputes impartially and make decisions based only on the facts and the law. To do so, judges must be insulated from public pressure and politics. That’s why all judicial candidates are non-partisan and why Utah does not have contested elections for judgeships.

What exactly are judicial retention elections?

If a judge seeks an additional term of office, the Utah Constitution requires that the judge run in a retention election. In that election, a simple majority of “yes” votes earns the judge another term in office.

The retention election helps keep judges independent by insulating them from partisan politics. At the same time, by allowing every voter to weigh in, the election process ensures that judges remain accountable to the public. To cast an informed vote, the public can first read about the judges either in the Voter Information Pamphlet or online at judges.utah.gov or vote.utah.gov.

How does Utah evaluate its judges?

The Judicial Performance Evaluation Commission is an independent, 13-member group of lawyers and non-lawyers. Each of the three branches of government appoints an equal number of its members.

The Commission must by law evaluate all judges twice during their terms of office. The first evaluation gives the judges the opportunity for self-improvement. The second evaluation gives the public information to use in casting their votes. As part of the second evaluation, the Commission votes on whether or not to recommend the judge for another term in office. Sometimes, the votes will not total 13. This happens when a commissioner does not vote because of personal or professional relationships with a judge that could affect an unbiased evaluation or when a commissioner is absent from the meeting at which the vote is taken.

The evaluation includes several elements. Online surveys are sent to attorneys, court staff, and jurors. In addition, trained courtroom observers spend a minimum of two hours in each judge's courtroom and submit written reports of their observations on each judge. Each judge must also meet ethical standards as well as court standards for judicial education, timeliness, and fitness to serve. Finally, the Commission considers comments submitted to judges.utah.gov from members of the public who have first-hand experience with a judge. The Commission considers all this information, and then each commissioner casts a vote either for or against recommending the judge for another term of office.

By law, judges have the right to see the results of their evaluation before making the decision to run for another term of office in a judicial retention election. If the judge chooses to run for retention election, the report on the judge is made available to the public in the Voter Information Pamphlet and online at judges.utah.gov. If the judge chooses not to run for retention election, the evaluation is, by law, a protected record.

What criteria must a judge meet to “pass” a judicial evaluation?

If a judge meets the eight performance standards in the table below, it is presumed that the Commission will recommend that the voters retain the judge for another term of office. If the judge fails to meet the standards, it is presumed that the Commission will not recommend retention. If the Commission does not go along with a presumption or chooses to make no retention recommendation at all, it must explain in detail the reasons for its action.

What about justice court judges?

Justice court judges are selected through a merit selection process roughly similar to state court judges, except that the appointing authority is the municipality or county rather than the governor. Justice court judges serve six-year terms of office and stand for retention elections like state court judges.

Justice courts vary widely in terms of case loads and the numbers of attorneys appearing in the court. Based on this variation, there are three levels of evaluations to which a justice court judge may be subject.

- Full evaluation: These justice court judges preside over the courts with the highest caseloads and are thus subject to the same standards and evaluation measures as state court judges (#1-8 above). Two justice court judges received a full evaluation in 2018.
- Mid-level evaluation: These justice court judges preside over medium-sized courts where fewer attorneys appear regularly. The mid-level evaluation includes interviews with court users, including litigants and those who accompany them to court, attorneys, court staff, interpreters, bailiffs and others. These judges must also meet judicial discipline standard (#5 above) and performance standards established by the Judicial Council (#6-8 above). Six justice court judges received a mid-level evaluation in 2018.
- Basic evaluation: These justice court judges preside over the smallest courts in Utah. They must meet judicial discipline standard (#5 above) and performance standards established by the Judicial Council (#6-8 above). Three justice court judges received a basic evaluation in 2018.
