

Name: Christine A. Johnson

Office: Utah House of Representatives

District: 25

E-mail address: uthouse25@gmail.com

Website: www.electjohnson.com

Age: 39

Occupation: realtor

Residence: Salt Lake City

Years at residence: seven years in Salt Lake City

Qualifications:

- Current Representative of House District 25
- Salt Lake City Human Rights Commission (former vice-chair)
- East Central Community Council (former chair)
- Equality Utah (former board member)
- Stonewall Democrats (former vice-chair)
- National Conference of Environmental Legislators
- American Council of Young Political Leaders (alumni)
- National Conference of State Legislators
- Reach Out and Read (current advisory board member)
- Equality Utah (current advisory board member)
- Rape Recovery Center, SLC (current member, board of directors)

Christine Johnson has served as Representative for House District 25 since 2006, serving on the Higher Education Appropriations, Judiciary and Revenue and Taxation Committee as well as Political Subdivisions Interim Committee. She has passed four bills in her first two terms to simplify the voting process and improve air and water quality, fulfilling her initial campaign commitment to create a state-wide anti-idling program. She has sponsored fair-workplace legislation in efforts to eliminate discrimination in the workplace. She has been a staunch advocate for public and higher education in addition to women's reproductive rights, the environment including renewable energy and health care. She created the Women's Leadership Project and lectured to over 550 students on leadership and politics.