As I served, I have worked hard to be fiscally disciplined in the spending of taxpayers' money, both during the abundant and lean years. Spending should be controlled and government limited. I oppose any tax increase. County financials should be transparent and accessible.

Fiscal discipline requires an examination and reevaluation of all spending to identify waste, duplication, and inefficiencies and eliminate them. Elected officials are to be held accountable.

Property taxes, economic development and public safety are three of my highest priorities.

My core values are centered on integrity, commitment, a strong work ethic, honor and respect. Building true consensus requires all of these values and a willingness to reach out to those you serve and LISTEN.

We need to build stronger families and stronger communities so we can enjoy a stronger county.
