I am the presidential candidate of the Party for Socialism and Liberation. The PSL is a working-class party. 120 million people work for wages in this country. The Republicans and Democrats represent the interests of the richest 1% of the population. Their wealth comes from workers' labor.

The United States is the world's richest country. Yet 2 million people are losing their homes. Millions are jobless. Corporations are slashing wages, benefits and pensions. Poverty is growing, and over 2 million people languish in prison.

The PSL believes that the government should be of, by and for working people. This is a sham democracy. Not one worker sits in Congress or on the Supreme Court. The presidential Everyone should have the right to free healthcare, education, housing and a job with full benefits. We stand against racism and for full rights for immigrants. We oppose sexism and support women's reproductive rights. We stand for LGBT equality.

Gloria La Riva and I are candidates of the Party for Socialism and Liberation. The PSL is comprised of working-class organizers, activists and leaders dedicated to advancing the struggle for workers' power.

The PSL is not a party of professional politicians. Unlike the Democratic and Republican candidates, who serve the interests of big capital, we believe that working people should be in charge of society. Workers produce all of the wealth.

The capitalist electoral system is rigged to ensure the domination of the tiny ruling class of Wall Street bankers and corporations over the vast majority of the population.

The PSL's campaign provides a true alternative for workers. We believe in creating jobs, affordable housing, and free education and healthcare for all; equal rights for all; strengthening union rights; saving the environment; peace, not war; and socialism. We stand against racism, sexism and homophobia.

We are speaking to the tens of millions of people who desire real change. We believe that the wealth of society, produced by the labor of working men and women, should be used to meet our needs not the ultra-rich bankers and corporate bosses.
